BAKER FAMILY HISTORY

MONG--VERMILLION

I'll start with some of the History taken place in those years.

AMERICAN SETTLERS

On the 4th. of March 1789, the constitution of the United States went into operation, and on April 30, George Washington was inaugurated President of the American People, and during the next Summer, an Indian war was commenced by the tribes north of the Ohio. The President at first used pacific means; but these failing, he sent General Warner against the hostile tribes. He destroyed several villages, but was defeated in two battles, near the present city of Fort Wayne Indiana. From this time till the close of 1795, the principal events were the wars with the various Indian tribes. In 1796, General St. Clair was appointed in command, and marched against the Indians; but while he was encamped on a stream, the St. Mary, a branch of the Maumee, he was attacked and defeated with the loss of six hundred Men.

General Wayne was now sent against the savages. In August, 1794, he met them near the rapids of the Maumee, and gained a complete victory. This success, followed by vigorous measures, compelled the treaty of Greenville and on the 30 of July, was signed by the principal chiefs, by which a large tract of country was ceded to the United States.

On October 27, 1795 the treaty between the United States and Spain was signed, whereby the free navigation of the Mississippi was secured.

No sooner had the treaty of 1795 been ratified than settlements began to pour rapidly into Ohio. During this same year settlements were found at the present City of Chillicothe, along the Miami and from Middletown to Piqua, while in the more distant West, settlers and speculators began to appear in great numbers. In September, the City of Cleveland was laid out, and during the Summer and Autumn Samuel Jackson and Jonathan Sharpless erected the first manufactor of paper "Red Stone Paper Mill". In the West St Louis contained some seventy houses and Detroit over three hundred, and along the river, contagious to it, were more than three thousand, mostly French Canadians, Indians and half-breeds, scarcely any Americans venturing yet into that part of the Northwest. Yet we have some MONGS born in Ohio around 1800, I will continue to search for the dates. We will go on with the country's history..

NORTHWEST TERRITORY

The election of representatives of the territory had taken place, and on the 4th of February, 1799 they convened at Losantville- now known as Cincinnati and considered the capital of the territory. The members of the Legislature were to be chosen on accordance with a previous ordinance and by the 19th of December this protracted session of the first Legislature in the West was closed.

DIVISION OF THE NORTHWEST TERRITORY

THE INCREASED EMIGRATION TO THE NORTHWEST, the extent of the domain, and the inconvenient modes of travel, made it very difficult to conduct the ordinary operations of government, and rendered the efficient action of courts almost impossible. The Congress in 1800 appointed a committee to examine the question. From northwest of the Ohio River; which lies to the westward of a line beginning at a point on the Ohio, opposite to the mouth of the Kentucky River, and running thence to Ft Recovery, and thence north until it shall intersect the territorial line between the United States and Canada, shall for the purpose of temporary government, constitute a separate territory, and be called INDIANA TERRITORY..

General Wm. Harrison was appointed Governor of Indiana territory and entered upon his duties about a year later.

Connecticut also about this time released hot claims to the reserve and in March a law was passed accepting this cession. Settlements had been made upon thirty-five of the townships in the reserve, mills had been built, and seven hundred miles of roads cut in various directions.

My Great Grandmother was born in Elizbethtown Conn. in 1834, her Mother was born in 1808 no court record yet. This was the JOHN BAKER FAMILY; Anna Baker, and Hannah Baker were sisters. Their Mother, Elizabeth Wiseman; Their father John Baker was in shipping for some years for Cornelious Vanderbuilt,moved to Ohio. Shoemaker by trade (census 1850) in Cinn. Ohio. More later.

This history gives information about the country they came into.

In January, 1802 the Assembly of the Northwestern Territory chartered the college at Athens. From the earliest dawn of the western colonies, education was promptly provided, and as early as 1787 newspapers were issued from Pittsburgh and Kentucky, and largely read throughout the frontier settlements. Before the close of this year, the Congress of the United States granted to the Citizens of the Northwestern territory the formation of a State Government. One of the provisions of the "Compact of 1787" provided that whenever the number of inhabitants within prediscribed limits exceed 45,000 they should be entitled to a separate government. The prescribed limits of Ohio contained, from a census taken to ascertain the legality of the act, more than that number, and on the 30th of April, Congress passed the act defining its limits and on the 29th of November the Constitution of the new State of Ohio, so named from the beautiful River forming its southern boundary, came into existence. The exact limits of Lake Michigan were not then known, but the territory now included within the State of Michigan was wholly within the territory of Indiana...

General Harrison, while residing at Vinsennes, made several treaties with the Indians, thereby gaining large tracts of lands. The next year is memorable in the history of the West for the purchase of Louisiana from France by the United States was extended over a large tract of country west of the Mississippi, and was for a time under the jurisdiction of the Northwest Government and as has been mentioned in the early part of this narrative, called the "New Northwest". The purchase of Louisiana for $15,000,000 thus by a peaceful mode, the domain of the United States was extended.

Illinois in 1804 completed a treaty at St. Louis, whereby over 51,000,000 acres of lands were obtained . During this year Congress granted a township of land for the support of a college, and began to offer INDUCEMENTS FOR SETTLERS TO THESE WILDS,. The country now comprising the State of Michigan began to fill rapidly with settlers along its southern borders. This same year, also a law was passed organizing the Southwest Territory, dividing it into two portions, the Territory of New Orleans, which city was made the seat of government and the District of Louisiana, which was annexed to the domain of Gen. Harrison..

On the 11th of January, 1805 the Territory of Michigan was formed and while this was being done, Indiana had passed to second grade of Government and through her General Assembly had obtained large tracts of land from the Indian Tribes. To all this the celebrated Indian, TECUMSEH vigorously protested, and it was the main cause of his attempts to unite the various Indian tribes in a conflict with the settlers.

The early settlers in our family; These things taking place at the time our family was coming into the country, even into this part of the new world. Imagine the strength needed under these conditions to move their families to a far away place, to clear the land, build a new life and With all the hardships one would encounter in the wilderness.

I will include some of the Indian History taking place in Ohio at about the time our people move west, into the territory.

TECUMSEH AND THE WAR OF 1812

This famous Indian Chief was born about the year 1768, not far from the site of the present City of Piqua, Ohio. his father, Puckeshinwa, was a member of the Kisopok tribe of the Swaneese nation, and his mother, Nethontaske, was a member of the Turtle tribe of the same people. On 1774 his father, who had risen to be chief, was slain at the battle of Point Pleasant, and not long after Tecumseh, by his bravery, became the leader of his tribe. In 1795 he was declared Chief, then lived at Deer Creek, near the site of the present City of Urbana. He remained here about one year and returned to Pique,in 1798, went to White River Indiana.

In 1805, he made his brother Laulewssikan (Open Door), who had announced himself as a prophet, went to a tract of land on the Wabash River, given to them by the Pottawatomied and Kickapoos. From this date the chief comes into prominence. He was now about 37 years of age, was five feet ten inches tall, was stoutly built, and possessed of enormous powers of endurance. His countenance was naturally pleasing and he was, in general, devoid of the savage attributes possessed by most Indians. It is stated he could read and write, had a confidential secretary and adviser, named Filly Caldwell, a half-breed, who afterward became chief of the Pottawatomies. He occupied the first house built on the site of Chicago. At this time Tecumseh entered upon the great work of his life. He had long objected to the grants of land made by the Indians to the whites, and determined to unite all the Indian tribes into a league, in order that no treaties or grants of lane could be made save by the consent of this confederation.

He traveled constantly, going from north to south and from south to the north, everywhere urging the Indians to this step. He was a matchless orator, and his burning words had their effect.

Gen. Harrison, then Governor of Indiana, by watching the movements of the Indians, became convinced that a grand conspiracy was forming, and made preparations to defend the settlements. Tecumseh's plan was similar to Pontiac's cunning artifice of that chieftain and added his own sagacity.

During the year 1809, Tecumseh and the prophet were actively preparing for the work. In that year, Gen. Harrison entered into a treaty with the Delawares, Kickapoos, Pottawatomies, Miamis, Eel River Indians and Weas, in which these tribes ceded to the whites certain lands upon the Wabash, to all of which Tecumseh entered a bitter protest, argument as one principal reason that he did not want the Indians to give up any lands north and west of the Ohio River.

Tecumseh, in August, 1810, visited the General at Vincennes and held a council relating to the grievances of the Indians. Becoming unduly angry at this conference he was dismissed from the Village, and soon after departed to incite the southern Indian tribes to the conflict.

Gen. HARRISON DETERMINED to move upon the chief's headquarters at Tippecanoe, and for this purpose went about sixty five miles up the Wabash, where he built Fort Harrison. From this place he went to the prophet's town, where he informed the Indians he had no hostile intentions, provided they were true to the existing treaties. He encamped near the village early in October, and on the morning of November 7, he was attacked by a large force of the Indians, and the famous battle of Tippecanoe occurred. The Indians were routed and their town broken up. Tecumseh returning not long after, was greatly exasperated at his brother, the prophet, even threatening to kill him for rashly precipitating the war, and foiling his (Tecumseh's) plans.

June the following year, he visited the Indian agent at Fort Wayne. Here he disavowed any intention to make a war against the United States, and reproached Gen. Harrison for marching against his people. The agent replied to this; Tecumseh listened with a cold indifference, and after making a few general remarks, with a haughty air drew his blanket about him, left the council house, and departed for Fort Malden, in Upper Canada, where he joined the British standard.

He remained under this Government, doing effective work for the Crown while engaged in the war of 1812 which now opened. He was however, always humane in his treatment of the prisoners, never allowing his warriors to ruthlessly mutilate the bodies of those slain or wantonly murder the captive.

On the 29th. Sept. Gen. Harrison was at Sandwich, and Gen. McArthur took possession of Detroit and territory of Michigan.

On the 2nd of October, the Americans began their pursuit of Proctor, whom they overtook on the 5th, and the battle of the Thames followed. Early in the engagement, Tecumseh who was at the head of the column of Indians was slain, and they, no longer hearing the voice of their chieftain, fled. The victory was decisive, and practically closed the war in the Northwest....

This information taken from the Darke Co. 1880 History. Garst Museum in Greenville Ohio has an outstanding history & artifacts.

About this same time we find some of our family in the east soon to come west to Ohio; John Vermillion born 17 Sept. 1807 in Maryland. Hannah Pomroy born 20 Dec. 1813 came west 1861.

David M. Mong was born in Ill. in 1848 and his father was born Ohio, (census) this would of made them come early in the 1800,s or before. I'm not sure when they came. The Baker's also came early, Elizebeth Wiseman was born in 1808 in N.Y., the Vermillion's were born in Maryland and Virginia the first of the 1800's. The first John Baker was born in England. It is said he sailed back and forth across the Ocean many times as captain for Uncle Cornelous Vanderbuilt, this information from Pearl Long in letter form. More later. G.W.

Anna Baker is born in Elizbethtown Conn. 1834, is with her family in Cinn. Ohio in the 1850 Census, not sure when they came yet. The John Wright family was in Bedford Co. Penn. in 1790 and came to Ohio by the year of 1812. The westward movement was encouraged by the Government. The Wrights were Farmers and John Baker,after 15 years in Shipping,became a shoemaker in Cincinnati Ohio info. from the 1850 census. He would be 52. The Mongs were in Franklin Twp/Warren Co. 1820. The elder David Mong of Cincinnati Ohio was a descendant of G. and Jacob Mong taken from records and a will. I have NO proof JACOB was David,s father yet.

It is possible one of these Mongs in our family was a Father and two Son,s all going to the CIVIL War together. The information was in a letter from LENA MONG. The father soon died.

I have a letter from PEARL LONG (named after PEARL VERMILLION) with information about John Baker and wife Elizebeth Wiseman. "CORNELIOUS VANDERBUILT was Grandma Bakers (Elizebeth Wiseman) Uncle Cornelious Vanderbuilt Sr., Cornelious was an Englishman; John Baker was Captain on ship between England and New York for 15 years." History has Cornelious Vanderbuilt in shipping. This John Baker was born in 1798. Records show his first child Anna Baker born 12 Feb. 1834. He could of been in shipping those years. I'll find more information in the records in due time. John Baker 2nd. born 1837 would of been 35 and in the Fire Dept. His Father John Baker was dead. The Ohio children should of been born in Cheviot Ohio, just outside of Cincinnati O. The older children could of been born in Elizbethtown Conn.

At this time in Mother's life I would like to include some of the history as I learned from record and Aunt Belle... Aunt Belle referred to David Mong as Uncle David and Hannah as Aunt Hannah. David and Hannah Mong lived in or close to Portland Ind. Not sure of place. John and Maggie Vermillion lived outside of Hillgrove Ohio on part of the original land His Father bought when they settled after the Civil War. Maggie's Mother and Hannah were Sisters.(Anna Baker and Hannah Baker).The eldest and youngest. Hannah Mong came to visit Anna and brought, her son, Jesse with her. Not sure if they came by horse and buggie or on a train. But from this and other visits Jesse Mong and Pearl Vermillion fell in love. Aunt Belle told me this part of the story and Ive wondered what the rest of their family's reaction was. But rather thought they blamed Jesse or held it against him. They went to Grant Co. to live and I've included a couple letters Mother sent to Aunt Belle and it must of been a struggle but I know he was successful in do time. Aunt Belle told of Dad bragging when I was born that I would never want for anything and this was approximently 1922 and soon the great depression was in force and he went bankrupt, he told of buying small pigs and feeding them expensive corn, fattened them and when they sold, sold for less than he paid for them as pigs.

Opal told of Dad being very strict. His children must have good table manner's, do as told. She told when his parents came to visit (they would stay a few days). He would instruct them to be on their best behavior. He would instruct them not to use slang such as dam or darn, but speak when spoken too. His parents had a very strict Religion. The Vermillion's had a more quiet Religion. Dad never cursed while they were there, but cut loose after they left. His children often told how hard they had to work and also his temper . Mother on the other hand was very gentle and I often thought she adapted well to her surrounding's. Dad always chewed tobacco, worked hard, drank too much, bootleg, didn't always plan well and too head strong for his own good.

After he first went bankrupt he had the courage to try it agan. He picked up with what he could and started over by moving to New Paris Ohio, borrowed some money, soon went bankrupt again. I remember the fall before he died He Mom and I walked down the hill (about a half mile) to a carnival and he was throwing balls at milk bottles and he and the man running the game got in an argument and Dad let loose with his fists, soon went back up the hill and he had a very swollen and sore fist. By the next Feb. they had his sale, date Feb. 24 1931 and he died the next day at noon. He'd been out cleaning up around the barn, came in to lay down to rest and never woke up. I was 9 at this time and remember well. Mother was left with a few pieces of furniture and no money. We went to live with Opal and Ralph Tipple for a few years. Bill was still at home at this time and soon had to go to work, he was 17.

Thresher Fire.

Thursday, about noon, while threshers were at work at John Vermillion's, one mile and a half east of Hillgrove, on the Woodington pike, a spark caught in the load on a wagon and the wagon and load completely consumed. It was with difficulty the team were unharnessed and only prompt work saved them. The wagon and team were the property of Charles Hatt.

To help me. Abgel Atkinson +

I will tell Roy a little of
The latest Isaac Roush
The Gas City Liveryman was killed last night at 5.30 his Telephone wires got crossed by a storm could not get them over — so he seen they were crossed so he took a Gas Pipe and was trying to untangle

Them and it was crossed
With a eletric wire from The car line and eletricety killed him at an instant
It don't seem hardly Possiable he was at his house Well I will try and write some more & make Ready by Jenks, Roy Edith &

Troy, Ohio

The remains of Lewis Buirley who passed away at his home in Troy, Ohio, were brought back to this city Sunday and funeral services were conducted from the Oakland M. E. church Monday afternoon, Dr. A. A. Luco officiating. Services at the grave were in charge of Oakland Lodge No. 545 I. O. O. F.

Mr. Buirley was the son of Elizabeth and William Buirley. His early life was spent near Sidney, Ohio, with his parents.

On October 14, 1884, he was united in the bonds of matrimony to Mary Ann Miller at Portland, Indiana, with whom he lived in blissful happiness and devotion for forty two years. This union was blessed with the advent of thirteen children, seven of whom are living, the others have preceded the father to the Great Beyond. Those children still living are Charles Buirley and Mrs. Earl McGregor, Oakland, Ill.; Mrs. Lilbern Zimmerman, of near Troy; Roy Buirley, of Akron, Ohio; Glenn Buirley, of Troy; and Marion and Miss Mamie at home.

The lives of both these parents have been spent in helpful devotion to their children for whom they have lived. Beside the wife and children mentioned above, there are two sisters, one half brother and sister and fifteen grandchildren who still survive. Other loved ones who have preceded him and await his coming are his parents, one grandchild, one sister and one brother.

In 1913, Mr. Buirley and family moved to Troy, Ohio, after having resided in Illinois for thirty-two years and have since become highly appreciated citizens of that community and the helpfulness of Mr. Buirley will be greatly missed in this capacity.

The subject of this sketch united with the Methodist church at Oakland, Ill., about thirty years ago, from which church he was transferred to Troy, Ohio, in 1913, according to the record of this church.

Mr. Buirley was a member of the Modern Woodmen of America and the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

The manner in which his host of friends have shown their appreciation and devotion to him is evidenced in their numerous and extravagant acts of kindness during his last illness and passing.

Though the hosts march on and the

Resident of Troy Community Since 1913—Body at Shilling Funeral Home

Mrs. Mary Ann Buirley, 73, resident of Troy and vicinity the last 27 years, died at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Maggie Zimmerman, 514 South Walnut Street. She had resided in the Zimmerman home the last two years.

Mrs. Buirley was born in Oakland, Ill., Sept. 25, 1837, and came to this community to make her home in 1913. She was a member of the first Congregational Christian church here.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Mae McGregor of Oakland, Mrs. Mamie Shipp of Roundhead and Mrs. Zimmerman, Troy; two sisters, Mrs. Grace Janes of Casstown and Mrs. Ida Butcher of Francisville; and 24 grandchildren.

The body was removed to the Shilling & Son Funeral home pending final arrangements.

(Note: Mrs. Buirley (Mary Ann Miller) was born in Cheviot, Ohio Sept. 25, 1837, and She married Lewis Buirley at Portland, Indiana, Oct. 14, 1884 and then moved to Illinois.

Mary Ann Miller Buirley
brothers and sisters

Mary Miller Buirley was born to Ann Baker and Henry Miller, Sept. 25, 1837, at Cheviot Ohio (near Cincinnati).

There were three sisters: Maggie Tullis (half sister) married John Vermillion. To this union were born Pearl (Jesse Mong), Mary (Oscar Jacob Hart), Belle (Frank Gray) and one son Roy (Florence).

To Pearl Mong were born the following children (Orval, Opal, (Ralph Tipple), Lawrence, Willis and Gladys (Cleo Wright).

To Mary Hart were born Ohmer, Ruth Anna (Pippenger), Hazel (Paul DeBoo).

To Bell Gray were born four children, three daughters are deceased. The son Maurice survives.

Most of these surviving descendants live near Union City, Greenville, Ohmer and Pippenger live near New Paris.

Sister Ida (Joseph Butcher) is still living (1937) at Mexico, Ind. There was one daughter Loretta (Lester Ricks) Francisville, Ind.

Anna M. Baker was born in Elizabethtown, Conn, Feb. 12, 1834 and died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Grace Janes, April 22, 1914. As a child she moved from her home in Connecticut, to Cincinnati, Ohio, where in 1852 she was united in marriage to Archibald Tullis. To this union was born one child Maggie who was waiting in the beyond to welcome mother home. Mr. Tullis lived but a short time, being killed during the civil war. Some time after his death she was again married. In 1864 she became the wife of James Henry Miller. To this union were born four children, one boy Elza, who died at the age of two years, and three girls. Mrs. Mary Buirley, Mrs. Ida Butcher and Mrs. Grace Janes, all of whom are living.

In early life Mrs. Miller united with the U. B. church and later transferred her membership to the Wesleyn Methodist and remained a member of this church.

Grandma Miller, as she was familiarly known, was a woman of sterling Christian character. Christ was a precious Saviour and friend to her. Her earnest desire was to go and be home with God expressed in the beautiful song she repeated just before her death:

"I would not live always, I ask not to stay,
Where storm after storm rises dark o'er the way;
The few lurid mornings that dawn on us here
Are enough for life's woes, full enough for its cheer,
She indeed, 'finished the fight and kept the faith'."

She leaves to mourn her loss, her daughters, a sister, Mrs. Hannah Mong of Albany, Ind., and a brother James Baker of Florida, Missouri who is quite sick at this time, fifteen great-grand children and a host of friends and neighbors. Hers was the life of Christian crown.

The funeral was conducted by Rev. W. B. Morgan, assisted by Rev. Roger from the house Saturday, interment following at the Francisville cemetery.

(This obituary was found in papers of the late Maggie Buirley Zimmerman.)

Mamie Buirley Shipp

These Miller children are Anna Baker's children, half brothers and sisters to MAGGIE TULLIS I knew several of these people as Mother always visited them. I took Mother often to see Maggie Zimmerman family and one time she said "you know Pearl we have always felt your family". At that time I didn't know the whole story. We took Mother to Danvile Ill. to Mae McGeager and met there Daughter and Son. We spent the week-end with them. Hope to go back to see if some of the family is still on the farm. The McGreager and Zimmerman's always came to visit Aunt Belle too. Mammie Shimp gave me this information of the Millers and also the Obituary of Anna (Baker) Miller I will include.

John T. Vermillion is the father of my Grandfather Vermillion and at this time I will include some stories I remember told by my Grandfather. Grandpa lived to be 88 years young, I was 10 years old when he died. He had a strong body and mind. Even in his 80's he walked for miles, knew everyone and went from around Elroy O. to Uncle Frank Gray's 7 miles outside of Union City Ind. When he was passed 85 I remember he walked from Uncle Frank Gray to New Paris Ohio approximately 25 miles to our house, spend a few days and walk back home. His home was with Uncle Roy and Aunt Florence Vermillion in darke Co.I have a postcard he sent to my folks in New Paris Ohio dated Jan.14, 1931 I will include a copy. It read "Union City Ind. 1-14-31

Hello Jesse and Pearle. I have had a cold. But am better now. I want to come to see you all but it is to "longer" walk for me these cold days. Roy rented a farm close to Beamville he will move in March and then it will be a busy time for him. Could some of you folks come up,I would go home with you It has been very cold so far this Winter. Yours J.F. Vermillion. (copy of card).

The roads were much different in those days, either gravel or dirt and he knew most of the farmers and if they were going to town or to another farm, with their horse and wagon and he was walking their way, they would call to him to jump on and ride for as far as they were going so he didn't walk all the way, he may of been our first "hitch-hiker".

I thought all Grandfathers were tall, strong, had long snow white beards, walked with a strong cane and a little bent as he walked a good pace up the road or down the lane for the mail. This was and still is the picture I remember. He was a kind and gentle man and I often thought Mother Mong (his daughter Pearle) inherited this gentleness from him, also the bone structure was alike. All his children seemed gentle in nature, and tall in stature.

The long cold winters (they were just that) and the time spent with us was enjoyable and he always did his share of the chores, be it chopping wood or the jobs at hand. In the evening he liked for Mom to have some small boiled potatoes so he could peel them for breakfast the next morning. We had a heating stove in the living-room and with a warm cozy fire and wind and snow outside, he would slide the shinny top decoration of the stove to the side and place there a couple apples and slowly heat and turn until they were cooked to perfection with a slightly beige color and mellow inside. If I kept quite (hard for me to do) he would give me some. I still can taste the warm tender mellow apples.

The evenings were often spent playing cards and loved to play Eucker or Buck Eucker. I took no part in this but still remember the stories often told of his boyhood before the Civil War and the move to their new homelife in Darke Co. Ohio.

His Fathers name was also John Vermillion and his Mother was Hannah (Pomroy) Vermillion. They had or managed a Plantation outside Washington D.C. Grandpa told many stories of the life on the plantation and how the Negroes of those days would come and beg to work for them because they gave good care and was kind. I feel many of these stories go untold. Grandpa told of teaching them to spell and write their names and would take them up into the hills, point to things and teach them how to spell the things they would see. He told these stories with enjoyment and never once did he ever make fun or degrade these people.

As the Civil War became such an issue and this family didn't care to fight friends or family. They put a great deal of Confederate money in the bank, all belongings on the train and started for Mo. for it was neutral at that time. They stopped in Hillgrove Ohio in Darke Co. to visit Hannah's sister. Her name taken from Hannah's Obituary, was Eliza Douglas (it said she was formerly of Hillgrove and died in Nebraska the same day as Hannah, her sister).

They were to raise the family remain in Hillgrove the rest of their lives and you can find most of them burried in Snell Cemetery just outside Hillgrove. Grandpa was 17 when they left Louden Co. Virginia. He grew up in Darke C and he first married a Sara M. King, she died about 1878 for he marries Maggie Tullis 29 April 1880. He had a great love for her, for I can remember he would tear up when he heard the song with her name. She died at age 41 and a great loss by all her family. He was seventeen years older and never remarried. Pearl (Mother) had married a little over a year before and Mary, her second daughter, was married. Belle and Roy were still at home. Her death record shows her born in Hamilton Co. Ohio, cause of death, Paralysis. I have many more records and memories, but for now will continue with the family history.

The complete children of John Fenton Vermillion is found as Children of Maggie Tullis at the beginning of this history.....

This the information on tape
By Aunt Belle Gray before 1979 as Cleo is still working;

She is telling of Tramps come to the house and Grandpa Vermillion never turns them away. This John Vermillion Belles father; She tell of a law being passed that tramps aren't to stop at homes. She tells of one coming . She was afraid of staying by herself and they would want to stay all night. One tramp came to the door one evening, he had an Ax , they feed him. He was about 30 years old. He used the ax to cut wood to earn a meal; After he had his supper Pa told him he could go up to the loft to sleep. He picked up his ax and went up to bed. Aunt Belle had felt afraid , but when Pa got up and dropped the latch on the door after the tramp went upstairs, she knew then Pa didn't feel real safe with him and his ax.

At this time she had a sore foot. She goes on about some picture we were looking at. "She was 14 when he married her ?" We are looking at a picture that Jim Baker is in, this would be the not sure of whom she is talking about.

She tells of the Vermillion family coming from Virginia at the time of the Civil war and got as far as Hillgrove and never got any farther. Thy wouldn't let them travel ( gov.)on to Mo.So thats how they located at Hillgrove.
They had been on there way to Mo. because it was neutral in the Civil War.They came from Virginia. Who were they going to MO to see.( Eliza Douglas,) Grandma's Sister. She says she starts a lot and can't finish it.

Aunt Liza died at the same time as Grandma , Hannah and Liza are sisters Liza is sister to Hannah. They would of been Pomroy. John vermillion and Hannah Pomroy, Eliza would of been Pomroy and should of came from Virginia...is in Mo. and in darke co. Aunt Liza had a boy named Fenton in Mo. Dad use to call him uncle Fent. That is where the name Fenton came in the picture. Aunt Belles fathers middle name was Fenton. Fent Douglas in Mo. should be recorded in Mo. Adie still wrote to some of the family in Mo. for some time. Aunt Belle asks how did I got started on the names and family history. I explain how I got started. She seems to enjoy talking to me about the family of old. She has a lot of good information. She says Mo. was neutral and while they are at Hillgrove Mo goes with the south. Ma goes to Mo.and is just 6 years old an when they come back they have lost everything they have and she comes back in a covered wagon, this is Maggie Tullis to become Maggie Vermillion. Her step-father is Henry Miller and this is the family that goes to Mo. comes back after staying 7 years and comes back in a wagon. Aunt Ann or Aunt Anna. She was Jims wife and had a little baby they were bringing back with them, they would go into a farm house and take care of the baby. This is the way the baby got the hupincaugh died 6 weeks after they got back. This is Uncle Jim Baker's first wife. and then she talks about Bill Baker going to the Osark Mts. Mo. and they cut timber back about the same time as Jim. They came back. Maggie was about 13 years when they came back . .. The Millers had money when they went out but lost everything. Jim got them to come back. Jim Baker had been around a lot, he even had Indian friends etc. she said hed been in the west a lot, when Millers came back to Darke co. they went to Willie Wilson's Grand father and lived till they found a place. Her Ma worked for them and got $1.00 a week. When Millers got back, they didn't have anything and she gave it to them for Groceries to live. Ida was born out in Mo. and is small. She is the youngest now. She said she doesn't know where Aunt Grace is born, on the go she guessed. They stayed with Wilsons until they found a place to live, then they live on Ester Barnums place until they move to the next, the land belonged to the government and people could build a place on the land.When Grandpa Miller died they wanted her to help pay on the funeral exp.. She didn't pay and the other children paid because they got every thing they had anyway. She married before he died. Her Ma lived across the road from John Vermillion when she was with the Millers and they went together six months before they got Married.

They all went to church together."Ma told me all this stuff." She said she knew the date Ma and Dad was married,it was April 29 1880. March 29, they had Pearl March 29, 1881. The children lived there, always till they got married and till Ma died. That set back . Ester owned that land and Val Robinson bought the whole 160 Acres. She stayed there only when she worked out. Grandma Wilson was a Rienhart before she married. They moved from Hillgrove up to Portland, above Portland some place. Ma went with them and worked for them and was homesick to come back to see the family. John Vermillion had been around Vanwert co.???

She came home for Christmas and she was going back. She got hooked up with Dad and she didn't go back. But she was making better money then.; She had a piece of her wedding dress. Nothing in the Bible. She wished there was. The Bible belonged to Grandpa and Grandma and Grandma gave it to Grandpa. Dad wrote the births in it. She doesn't know where it is. She thought it was still here.

I left some papers for her to go over and she said she liked to talk about old times. She had a sore on her foot and I tried to clean it up for her and stayed for dinner that day.

This is the letter from Shimp from Troy.
Maggie Tullis is the name Maggie went by. Hannah Pomroy the First John Vermillion wife. Hannah died in 1892."Your Dads Mother" yes. She was there when she died. She was there and was about 8 years old. She remembers the funeral. this is the obet. of Hannah Pomroy. She says Her Grandpa was born in 1807 . they had 8 children. 1861 they came to Hillgrove Ohio. The obt. gives her sisters name . In 1853 she became a member of church in Virginia. Transfers to Hillgrove in 1861. March 27th is the day she died. Harvy Hart preached the funeral. she knew him. We read the obet. together. they stopped in Hillgrove to see her, sister, Eliza who went on out west. She dies in Neb. should have some information in Neb. Nov. 10th 1892 #30. Frank 54 years east of Elroy. Frank Vermillion was who she was talking about. She remembers Isaac Wright and he lived west of Elroy,,, and Frank Vermillion lives east of Elroy close to railroad running east and west. They used to come to Folgers and the Robinsons or Clevengers would come to Folgers. She had meet Isaac and his wife there. She couldn't remember the children.
We are talking about the ROBINSON and Folgers; she says can the Robinson be related to ..Bell Folger, she was a ROBINSON Iren Bolen was a Robinson. Belle Folger was Iren's Mother and married Robinson. She would of been relation to her Grandmother and Belles Grandmother were sisters. Aunt Jennie remarried before she got to Hillgrove. Aunt Jennie died in Indianapolis she lived with her boy. John Folger died there. Her daughter went blind. about 1900s . She was little when they lived there. Jenny was still living when Ma died. 1904...She died in Indianapolis Ind. She was buried in Crownhill Cemetery there...

This was the end of this tape. I tryed to copy tape as it was.
